The University's visa expenses policy permits Schools to reimburse visa costs on behalf of employees and their dependents but only where grant funding is available and allowed as an eligible cost. Please note that visa costs are not eligible with all funders or funding schemes (see Annex I), please seek advice from your Research Development Manager. Visa costs not covered by the grant funding need to be factored into the costing of the new person from the outset.

It is usual practice for the University to only cover the cost of the Certificate of Sponsorship (see section 5 in this guidance).

Inclusion on research grant applications

A number of institutions pay the cost of visas for incoming research staff. As these costs are considerable, this can be attractive to potential applicants. The cost of a visa application and immigration health surcharge can vary depending upon individual circumstances, which won't be known at the time of the grant application. It is therefore recommended that £716 for the

Costing guidance

Investigators who are including a PDRA on their research grant application should include £716 to cover the cost of a visa application and £1035 per year to cover the immigration health surcharge as part of their staff recruitment costs. Some funders, including UKRI, will allow these costs to be vired to other directly incurred costs if they are not required for their original purpose.

Timelines

Visa applications will extend the time required to process a new employee and must be factored into the recruitment process. Current guidelines from UK Visas and Immigration are that a visa application will take up to 8 weeks, in addition to the advertising and appointment process. Therefore, unless the start date is determined by the funder guidelines, please allow
